

DIPLOMATIC RELEASE

They said it couldn't happen,
They said it wouldn't happen,
They said it shouldn't happen,
But it has! and now;

The Fool Plays On

The first fool will appear on April first, and from then on it will appear at regular monthly intervals. To say that the Fool is being produced by Malcolm Brown should be enough for most people to know what to expect, but a few details of future policy will let you all know what to expect!

PRODUCTION: Fool will be produced by reduction photocopying and will be produced every 4 weeks with a 3 day turnaround. Cost will be 25pence including postage per copy, but £2 will buy you the first ten (10!) copies.

CONTENT: I hope to include a fair amount of interesting non-games material, and will pay cash sums for suitable contributions. However, games will always be the main reason for the publication of the 'zine.

GAMES: Fool will carry standard Diplomacy games and a small number of selected variants. There will also be a number of cash prize competitions. Game fee will be £1, of which 25pence will go towards the £2 prize money awarded to the winners/joint winners. (Joint winners share prize money.)

TRADES: I will operate a trade with any other 'zine that wishes to, and the 'zine policy will be to support and encourage trading within the hobby.

WAITING LISTS: Waiting lists are now open for:

Standard Diplomacy (£1)

Stab (£1)

Cline 9-player Diplomacy (£1)

all of which offer a £2 first prize.

The Fool Plays On is produced by Malcolm Brown, 2, Park Street, Dunstable, Beds (0582 602849) to whom subscriptions or enquiries should be sent.
